Kiwanian named Hometown Hero of the Year

WBT News Talk Radio 1110 AM continues the 2008 Hometown Hero Season. Every week, one individual in the community is recognized and named WBT's Hometown Hero of the week during Charlotte's Morning News. This person is an unsung hero recognized for their efforts in making our community a better place to live. Whether their contributions are large or small, heroes are constantly making a difference in people's lives. WBT, along with Charlotte Copy Data and Scott Clark Toyota City feel that now, more than ever, it is important to recognize our community heroes. Dr. Mark Mogul is the Medical Director for the Presbyterian Blume Pediatric Hematology and Oncology Clinic. He is a remarkable doctor, but more than that he is a remarkable person of character and integrity.

At Presbyterian Blume Pediatric Hematology and Oncology Clinic, they approach healing in a multidisciplinary way, combining state-of-the-art treatment, support services for the entire family, and a home-like environment where pediatric patients can actively recuperate to good health. Dr. Mogul dedicates almost all of his time and energy to all of the families who have children with childhood cancer. He is a kid at heart and shows love and compassion to all the children. He makes a traumatic event bearable. He is loved by all the families, his staff, and his coworkers. In the near future, he plans to bring the option of bone marrow transplants to the Charlotte area. He has a passion for people and a passion to offer the best medical care to all who need it.

Dr. Mogul is an amazing person! This foundation is largely his inspiration for all of his free time efforts. For his great volunteerism for making a difference in these kids lives and for a caring heart, Dr. Mark Mogul is our 2007 WBT Hometown Hero of the Year!

There will be a total eclipse of the moon tonight! The total phase will last 51 minutes and will begin at 10:01 pm.

Proving that the Pancake Karnival is a Fargo Favorite, patrons line up to fill up on piping-hot pancakes, savory sausage, and sweet orange juice.

Fargo club flips for world record

Kiwanians in Fargo, North Dakota, can add the Guinness Book of World Records to the growing list of publications in which they are featured—and this not-so-small victory is as sweet as the maple syrup poured over the pancakes they served to get there. (See "Fargo Pancake Fame Goes Far," October 2007 KIWANIS magazine.)

About 300 volunteers joined 100 Kiwanians to flip and serve a record 34,818 pancakes—4,093 more than needed to beat a record established in 2002 by the Lions Club in Lubbock, Texas—during the 50th annual Pancake Karnival fundraiser on February 9.

"With (a Guinness adjudicator) there, we were able to get immediate confirmation that we set the record," says club president Matthew Sullivan. "With this being our silver anniversary, it was really neat to see some of the members of the community who had been to all 50 Karnivals."

The Fargo Kiwanis club's pancake fundraiser also has been mentioned as one of the 1,000 Places to See Before You Die: In the USA and Canada and in a 2003 National Geographic magazine article.
